Fantasy UFL is coming!

The UFL has finally made their official league merger announcement. And you better believe AltFantasy Sports will be supporting fantasy UFL leagues.

We'll open up the site to league creation a few days after official rosters are published or 60 days out from the first kickoff, whichever comes first.

We have a ton of new functionality and games coming this year. So keep checking back here to learn more about them. Spring football is our favorite time of the year. We're glad to have you back!
